Fibre Systems is a trusted source of information for the optical communications industry, aimed at component and subsystem vendors; network equipment manufacturers; planners; installers; and systems integrators; as well as operators and end-users of fibre-optic networks worldwide.

Fibre Systems addresses the technologies, applications, and the business and regulatory issues that shape the fibre-optic systems market, with a particular focus on the European perspective.

Fibre Systems comprises a quarterly print and digital magazine, a regularly updated website (www.fibre-systems.com), and a monthly email newsletter, FSNewsline.
