Fibre Systems is a trusted source of information for the optical communications industry, covering the entire value chain from components, subsystems and network equipment manufacturers and distributors to network planners, systems integrators, operators and end-users of fibre-optic networks worldwide.

Fibre Systems addresses the technologies, applications, and the business and regulatory issues that shape the fibre-optic systems market, with a particular focus on the European perspective.

Fibre Systems comprises a quarterly print and digital magazine, a regularly updated website www.fibre-systems.com, and a monthly email newsletter, FSNewsline.
